Factors leading to Colonial Victory

The American rebels won their independence because the British government grew tired of the struggle soon after the French agreed to help the Americans.

Diplomatic

Benjamin Franklin negotiated a Treaty of Alliance with France .

The war did not have popular support in Great Britain .

Military

George Washington, general of the American army, avoided any situation that threatened the destruction of his army, and his leadership kept the army together when defeat seemed inevitable.

Military

Americans benefited from the presence of the French army and navy at the Battle of Yorktown, which ended the war with an American victory .
